

EASTER SUNDAY

JESUS IS RISEN

We have followed Jesus in the last days of his life: in the Upper Room on Holy Thursday, in the Garden of Olives at the moment he was arrested, on Good Friday, we saw him alone and crucified, while Holy Saturday was a day of sadness, but today we celebrate his glorious resurrection. It is Easter. God has come and entered our lives and the history of the whole world.

On the dark night of her faith Mary Magdalene went to the sepulcher. It was dark outside indeed, but it was even darker within the heart of that woman who had lost the only one who had ever understood her and had liberated her from evil. This friend of the Lord knows that friendship awaits and expects the presence and nearness of the other. Friendship is a great love and Mary Magdalene feels it confirmed in her life on this splendid Sunday morning. Her friend Jesus died because he loved his disciples very much, loved her and including Judas. Realizing that the rock has been moved she does not enter. She calls out to Peter and John Her heart becomes all the sadder once she does not see the body of the Lord. This gesture is for believers a true slap in the face of all the occasions and moments we have forgotten that Jesus is alive.
