TEACH US TO PRAY

Jesus continues on the road to Jerusalem where he will live the last mysteries of his mission: he will be arrested by the chief authorities of the Jews, will suffer his passion, death and resurrection. After the episode with Martha and Mary, where Luke reminded us of the importance of listening to the Word of God, the evangelist shares other teachings of Jesus.

The first of these teachings deal with Prayer. It is organized in three consecutive presentations, and each one offers us a particular lesson about Prayer. First Jesus teaches his friends how to pray, teaching them the Our Father, there follows the parable of the friend who shows up at the inopportune moment with insistent pleas for help, teaching that Prayers to the Holy Spirit is ceaseless, itself a Prayer of the gift of the Spirit.

This passage in Luke reminds us that various religious movements had their own prayers, which they taught to others, indicated their ideals, their mission and their relationship to God. Teaching his disciples the Our Father, Jesus introduces them directly to the subject of his relationship with his Father, and thus he shared with them all about his mission, and in this manner bringing them in the deepest sense of a community.
